The pickpockets did a grand trade in Corso. Their dodge was to tap on the shoulder whoever they saw with a valuable pin or watch chain; the person turned round expecting to see a friend, and the watch and pin were gone in a twinkling.
One Englishman lost, in this way, a scarf pin worth seven hundred dollars, and another a similar ornament for which he paid three hundred dollars. Not a few millionaires should waste so much money
on a scarf pin.

tion concerning the Bulgarian loan. A loan was issued in Vienna to-day, and up to midday there were no subscriptions, the city alone to the amount of more than 30,000,000. A great deal of speculation on contingent allotments was done upon the Bourse at premiums which rose to 2½ per cent.

The semi-official Bulgaria has begun to publish some revelations as to Russia's financial dealings with Bulgaria, which the Russian Government has denied. Particularly Prince Dondukov-Korsakoff will find extremely distasteful. The journal starts by saying that the indemnity claimed from the Bulgarians on the occupation of their country after the war was regularly paid until Prince Alexander's restoration. Since then the Bulgarian Government has made an annual remittance of the money to the national bank, but the Russian Government, holding out for more territory in Bulgaria, has refused to receive it. In accordance to Eastern Rumania it has been denied that they levied any indemnity there, but the Bulgaria declares that they exacted every species of contribution, notwithstanding the Alko-Pasha's protest that the impoverished condition of the country after the war should be taken into account. In 1878, for instance, the sum of 6,000,000, was paid to Prince Dondukov-Korsakoff, who forwarded an equal quantity of money in gold to St. Petersburg. Then follows this pretty story:—

"Prince Dondukov and his clerks did to give themselves much to keep larger accounts of the sums which they received. When his Highness departed from the country the only document found in his house was a sheet of paper, on which he had listed with his own hand the sums paid by him as gratuities to Russian officials in Bulgaria. This piece of paper, which is presently treasured as the Bulgarian Ministry of Finance, sets forth that Prince Donduhoff distributed 50,000 silver roubles, worth 40 each, while he allotted to himself the lion's share of 250,000 roubles, or 1,500,000. We have failed, however, to find any record of a abuse which empowered him to deal thus splendidly with money when he held in trust."

ness, and forecasting a tight state of affairs ahead, many dealers and capitalists are buying on time. A conclusion is gaining ground that affairs in this market will be very brittle in winter, and the state of the exchange market begins to confirm these apprehensions. Disturb at the bottom of the rise, and as long as nothing is done, the market will grow and expand until we are involved in a currency crisis that may take us back to the days of the last generation.

The Bosa is particularly unfortunate just now with the first plague. A short time ago a whole block was swept away by the devouring element, and hundreds of people left homeless, which has become accustomed now by such a conflagration which only the greatest care and attention prevented from being a repetition of the calamity. About one o'clock in the morning the fire brigade was notified that the tailors establishment Calle Lamadrid 262 was on fire. Assistance was promptly rendered, but before the fire could be got under it had laid waste to the tailors, but also a large lodging-house, another tailors, and a bakery. The damages are estimated as follows:—Patry's tailors $100, insured in the Assurance Co. of Lima for $200; Ferrandina's tailors $1500, insured in the Assurance Co. of Lima for $3000; Ferrandina's bakery $1000, insured for $2000 in La Ica de la Baza; lodging-house $7000, insured in the Estrella for $14000. These figures show some idea of the extent of the damage done, which would have been much greater but for the prompt and vigorous aid lent by the fire brigade.

Judge Bercochea has declared Mr. Alejandro Ferrer a bankrupt, naming Messrs. Riquenza and Wright as official assignees to look after the estate and affairs. Mr. Ferrer appeared before the ordinary Civil Court alleging that he was not a merchant, and therefore beyond the jurisdiction of the Commercial Court. This plea, however, has been overruled, several purely commercial transactions being proved to have been effected by the bankrupt. This is a side issue to the great speculation in National Bank Shares, and the partners are the brothers, Messrs. Monte and Scott.

The meeting of the shareholders of the Insurance Company "La Italia" was held yesterday, about 100 members being present, representing two-thirds of the capital. The report and balance-sheet were read and approved, six directors being elected. Mr. Monte, vice, R. Plaggio, J. Mondelli, N. Mianuzzi, S. Monte, F. Della Cia and A. Bianchi. The balance-sheet returns the amount insured at $2,811,700, and profits collected at $24,000, of which the company has received $1,400 for appropriations for founders' shares, directors, and reserve fund, so that the shareholders have the stock in this market, though the purchase is to a very large amount.

Flour and wheat are coming down in price and several millers are shipping large quantities to the coast. The purchase of the flour and wheat is being done by the Honorable John Baring leaving tomorrow for Chile.

Mr. Nolle was enveloped in friends to-day on his arrival, after two years and a half's absence. Messrs. Jose Salas and J. de la Cruz were among the first to greet him. Mr. Thomas Drysdale visited Mr. Stoppi in the Italian Bank to-day and was very favorably impressed with the great staff and business in the bank, which has outgrown all bounds.

The greatest excitement prevails in the market over the tremendous boom in the stock market. The telegrams to-day give the price at 70, which shows the price at which they are going up, and it is strange that there is only one buyer of the stock in this market, though the purchase is to a very large amount.

There was a further boom in gold at the second hour and the rates shot up with lightning rapidity to 72.50 for to-morrow, 73.50 for the day after to-morrow, and 74.50 for the day after to-morrow. For the end of March. About a million and a quarter dollars changed hands, the greatest part being cash and the end of the month. The stock market was a terrible animation in Contraband and Cacao, though the rates reflect no improvement.

The following is a summary of operations effected this evening at the second hour:—
